FIRST AI Maturity Model

RATE EACH WAY OF WORKING FROM FASTER TO TRANSFORMED, AND TIE IT TO THE IMPACT IT SHOULD MAKE

THE LADDER

F	I	R	S	T
Faster	Improved	Reshaped	Scaled	Transformed
Speed. Tasks take less time; the work and its result are the same. Evidence: time per task drops. →	Quality. Output is more accurate or complete, with less rework. Evidence: rework and errors fall, and the people who use the output notice. →	The workflow. Steps disappear, and decisions move to new people or to the AI. Evidence: fewer handoffs, faster end to end, and it's measured. →	Reach. The new way spreads beyond one team. Evidence: other teams use it without being pushed, it's written down, and someone owns it. →	The operating model. Decisions, roles and what customers get are redesigned around AI. Evidence: it improves itself, nobody goes back, and the customer's job is different.

Rate alone first. Each person writes in Today on their own, then compare. Where you disagree is the conversation.

Pick one to climb first. Track it overleaf, and test it as a bet on an Impact Chain.

CHECK-INS

DATE	RUNG F to T	THE EVIDENCE what you can show	WHAT WE CHANGED since last time	THE NUMBER today	NEXT STEP

How to check in. Every 2-4 weeks, 30 minutes, with the people doing the work.

1. Show the evidence. Bring what changed: a number, a before and after, or the work itself.
2. Agree the rung together. Move up only when the evidence on the front is true.
3. Leave with one next step, an owner and a date.
